Two Parables.

"There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and he let it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into his far country."

"And when the time of the vintage drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it."

"And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one and killed another, and stoned another."

"Again, he sent other servants more than the first, and they did unto them likewise."

"But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, they will reverence my son."

"But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, 'This is the heir, come let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.'"

"And they caught him, and slew him out of the vineyard and cast him out."

"When the lord thereof of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?" (Matthew 22:33-40)

There was a certain state, which through its legislature, built a great grove shop, and hedged it round about and put a whiskey tank in it, and built a tower to watch it."

"And the husbandmen took the servants, and beat one and killed another, and stoned another, and perjured another."

"And again it sent other servants, constables, inspectors and investigators, more than the first, and they did unto them likewise."

"But last of all, the legislature selected some of its own members and clothed them with the highest authority, and sent them to the vineyard, to inquire why the husbandmen had diverted the profits into their own pockets and defrauded the state."

"But when the husbandmen saw the committee, clothed with authority to investigate their doings, they said among themselves, 'This is the son of the legislature, the people's great lawmaking power. Come let us seduce the committee and kill some of the members. If necessary, let us usurp the authority of the legislature, and the people and conduct this dispensary as we please.'"

"Whereupon, the husbandmen violently abuse and curse members of the committee, and say: 'If you report to the people anything about our affairs, we'll kill you without mercy.'"

"When the people, the lords of the legislature and the grove shop, come, what will they do unto those husbandmen.—Fee De Advocate.

New Wireless Tests.

To ascertain whether communication by wireless telegraphy can be had with submerged cable boats—that is, whether the water can be made a medium of transmission of waves of wireless telegraphic instrument, experiments will now be made at Newport, B. I., by order of the Navy department, under the direction of Commander Albert Gleaves of the torpedo station, and a New York special dispatch to the New York Herald.

As the tests will be made in every way and as the result, sound, for would be of great service the experiments will be watched with much interest.

Either the Shark or the porpoise will be used for the experiments. The vessel will be fitted with a transmitting apparatus similar to that used for sending through the air, and with a low aerial from which the current will be projected. The apparatus regularly in use at the torpedo station will be employed, for receiving.

No attempt will be made at first to send messages from the ship to the submerged boat, for it is believed the water is found to be a satisfactory conductor of the waves that can be transmitted either way.

Some experiments have already been tried. Operators at the torpedo station recently switched off their aerial and yet heard and read very clearly messages sent from a cable boat on the steamboat Point Judith. They believe the waves of electricity were transmitted through the water and the ground to the station.—Ex.

A Banking Conundrum.

A western exchange publishes the following conundrum: A banker ascertaining how for his dinner saw a $10 bill on the counter. He picked it up and took the number, in order to find the owner. While at home his wife remarked that the butcher had sent in a bill amounting to $10. The only money he had with him was the bill he had found, which he gave to her, and she paid the butcher. The butcher paid it to a farmer for a calf, and the farmer paid it to a merchant, who, in turn, paid it to a washwoman, and also, giving the banker a note of $10, went to the banker and paid the note. The banker recognized the bill as the one he had found; and which, up to that time had paid $10 of debt. On careful investigation he discovered that the bill was a counterfeit. Now, will some of our friends tell us what has been lost in this transaction, and by whom?

How Painful May Aid Faithful Carriers.

The following bits of advice are gathered from an exchange and are printed to aid rural carrier carriers: You will be doing your carriers a great favor if you stamp your mail before putting same in box or the government stamped envelopes with return upon upper left hand corner. This will guarantee delivery or return of letter. If you should not happen to have stamps or stamped envelopes, wrap amount up in paper, and stamp it in the box.

Remember that the "plaster" if the money is put in the box, the carrier has to get off his gloves or mittens to get hold of the loose pennies.

Always stamp upon the upper right hand corner.

When addressing a letter to one who is not a regular patron of a rural route postoffice, you should mark on the envelope in whose care the letter or package should go.

In addressing your letters do not write above the middle of the envelope as the address may be partly buried by being struck with the postmark stamp.

In regard to boxes, help your carrier by having a good time in a good way place to drive up to and always have your mail ready.

If you have visitors who are expecting mail, you should give the carrier their names.

Any mail matter deposited in box is subject to ordinary postage rates. Packages should be well wrapped and securely tied, and all valuable letters and packages should be registered.

The mail boxes are protected by the government. Anyone tampering with them should be reported at once to your postmaster.

Don't let your neighbor hitch his horse to your mail box post, so that your carrier has to get out of his way to get to the box.

Don't forget to clean snowdrifts from your box.

Don't let your mail box post lean half way over.

Don't set your box on your picket fence. If you do not blame the carrier if he hits your fence and tears away from himself.

Don't put letters in the box and forget to raise the flag.

Don't forget that the flag means much to carriers in the way of saving time.

Don't forget to nail your box on the post when your neighbor's cow is in the box.

Don't forget to haul a few loads of gravel and put around your box, so that the carrier can get to your box without muddying his shoes.

Don't be afraid to meet your carrier half a mile to get your mail while the roads are bad (especially where he has to pass). He is more than ready to see you when you get busy with your cows.

THE VERY BEST REMEDY FOR BOWEL TROUBLE.

Mr. M. F. Broughall, an old and well known physician, writes: "I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the best remedy for bowel trouble. I make this statement after having used it in my family for many years. I am never without it." This remedy is almost sure to be sent to you by mail. The price is 25 cents a bottle. It is never overstocked, and it is not an emergency. For sale by all Druggists.

DIFFERENT CRIES OF THE BABY.

Neural-Loud and strong, and the nature of a scream; baby gets red in the face.

Pain—Usually strong and sharp, but not generally continuous; it is accompanied by contortions of the features, drawing up of the legs and other symptoms of distress.

Temper-Loud and strong, and usually violent, accompanied by kicking and stiffening of the body.

Tires—Usually more of fretfulness and moaning than real crying, is excited by very slight causes.

Ranger—Usually a continuous, fretful cry, rarely strong and lusty.

Indulgence of Habit—Stops short when the baby gets what he wants, only to begin again when the object is withdrawn.—Frank Barker Copy in June Outlook.

If you would win great gratitude, All fame and fortune dimming, Invent some way to dry the hair Of the boys who sneak in swimming.—New York Sun.

Essentially Rotten.

There are persons who honestly believe, even in the face of such scandal, that they have been developed, that the dispensary is the best solution of the liquor problem. But if one could take out all the men who hold jobs of one sort or another, namely, or directly, with the G. M. 1. and the number of these is great—and all who are hoping to get jobs from it—and the number of these is greater still—the vote for its continuance as a South Carolina institution would be very small. Most men believe that it is one sort of another, namely, and that it cannot, in the nature of the case, ever be otherwise.—Newbury Observer.

An Alarming Situation.

Frequently results from neglect of clogged bowels and torpid liver, until constipation becomes chronic. This condition is unknown to those who use King's New Life. It is the best and most powerful regulator of stomach and bowels, and is recommended by the New York Druggists and Chemists.

Couple Burnt in House.

Waltham, June 1.—This morning at 3 o'clock the residence of Louis G. Carrell was burned with it a young couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hudson, who have been married only a few months.

The house was a large, two-story one, near the residence of Judge Wickliffe, in West Union, and when Mr. Carrell awoke about the end of the night the fire was enveloped in flames.

It was impossible to reach young Hudson and his wife. Rocks were thrown against the windows and every effort was made to rescue them, but they were never seen, and in a short time all that was left were their charred remains.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hudson were from the Salem section, but both had been here for several years. Mrs. Hudson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Reid of Waltham.

The probable cause of the fire and other particulars are not known. This is a most horrible affair and the community is shocked.

The coroner's investigation brought out no definite origin of the fire. The kitchen portion seemed to have been the first to burn.

Senator Carter's Story.

A group of senators who have been prominent in late legislation were discussing the aftermath of criticism that has befallen some of them. The way that Senator Aldrich is being ridiculed with a great victory in mind.

"I am afraid some of us," said Tom Carter, "are going to get a reward for our work for a long time."

"How's that?" asked two or three senators.

"Why, the judge had one day during the judge got up in the morning about 9 o'clock he would go out and see Sam. When he found him a colporteur about like this would say: 'You did you milk the cows?'"

"Yes, Massa, I done milked de cows."

"You haven't chopped the Massa's wood."

"Yes, Massa."

"If you want the milk the milk pail?"

"Massa, I worked free hours on dat milk pail, and I done got dat done, too."

"Well, I bet you were too lazy to lay up that fence on the back lot!"

"Over in de yarder hall?" Yes, Massa, I done did dat too, Massa."

"Did you make my jump?"

"Sure, Massa."

"Then, you lay nigger, you have got everything all done up, have you?"

"Yes, Massa."

"Well, then, Sam, you can go over to the penitentiary for in the pasture and get your breakfast. Be off with you, now!"—New York Times.

If you knew the value of Chamberlain's Salve you would never wish to be without it. Here are some of the diseases for which it is especially valuable: sore nipples, chapped hands, burns, frost bites, chilblains, chronic sore eyes, itching piles, hemorrhoids, rheumatism and eczema. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists.

DEATURATED ALCOHOL.

Deaturated alcohol has been placed on the free list by both houses of congress, as we understand it. Much importance seems to have been attached to the proposition, even the president calling special attention to it in a special message concerning Standard Oil operations as disclosed by Mr. Garfield.

It is a way it has the same importance. Such alcohol may be used for lighting purposes we believe, but the chief purpose referred to in most articles we have read about it, that it takes the place of gasoline for automobile power. Standard oil controls the gasoline supply in this country, and it is a logical inference that it will be cheaper than gasoline and the price of that must come down if it is to meet with this alcoholic competition. It is a way it has the same importance for the trust over to the deaturated alcohol industry so long as the product may be imported free. So the automobile makers have been looked after; also the people, so far as lights are naturalized alcohol for oil. All of concerned, if they will substitute deaturated alcohol for oil which is good for automobilists and people generally. If this is so, would not every body be much more benefited if the sugar they consume, the stout they use and the many other manufactured articles of everyday convenience or necessity were also admitted free? It is a logical conclusion that if gasoline and lights are made cheaper by free entry that all of the other articles would too.—Columbia Record.

UNKNOWN FRIENDS.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with good results, but they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of the remedy, and they have done much toward making it a household word by their personal use of it in their families and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cures of distress. For sale by all druggists.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with good results, but they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of the remedy, and they have done much toward making it a household word by their personal use of it in their families and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cures of distress. For sale by all druggists.

That Serge Suit of Ours at $15 is well worth looking at

IT'S a wonder for the money. Built "Summer-way" with cucumber coolness, and with all the shapeliness of a heavy-weight garment. The coats are large and roomy, with broad graceful shoulders and light-fitting collars. The trousers are liberally cut, slightly pegged, and made with or without turn-ups. There are a lot of little touches that give nobleness and individuality to the whole garment. The fabric, fashion and finish is better than the price deserves—$15.
